Tena koe Jeremy,

Re: Amended Statement of claim for Wai 616.

This letter is to confirm that the amendment is an addition to my previous statements of claim and is not a replacement.

Ngati Rora Hapu have been prejudicially affected by actions of the crown, in relations to the Te Kuiti Block of Te Rohe Potae.

A breach by the crown of the sacred agreement know as Te Rohe Potae Pact in relation to the continuation of the crowns main trunk railway, and no liquor being allowed into the King Country Region of New Zealand.

Te Rohe Potae O Te Iwi O Maniapoto as defined by the High Chiefs, Rewi Maniapoto, Wahanui Taonui Hikaka and Others in the 1856 petitioners to parliament, by Rangatira and Leaders of Ngati Maniapoto Iwi over the years ignored by the crown, whereby in 1956 liquor licences were issued.

Tribal Hapu Lands taken by the lien survey, Tribal Hapu Lands held under the crown pastoral leases, Tribal Hapu Lands taken for water petroleum, oil, gas, nickel, copper and mining right on and below the land and water surface.

Tribal Hapu Lands taken for crown forest leasehold reserves, parks, waterways, lakes, rivers, streams and endowment.

Lands for schools, halls, hospitals, courts, police stations, post offices, railway stations, cemeteries and churches.

Tribal Hapu Lands known title as Te Rohe Potae being distorted by the crown agencies and courts causing it under Maori protocol to be destroyed for all times.

The crown taking away Ngati Rora Hapu eeling and fishing rights in their ancestral area.

The crown settlers policy which destroyed wild game bird life and insects indigenous to Aotearoa, and to the area of Ngati Rora, of the Ngati Maniapoto Iwi Tainui Waka.

The crown mounting a war effort against Ngati Maniapoto and related Tribes to Ngati Maniapoto at Orakau Rangiriri in 1865, causing death to members of the Ngati Maniapoto Iwi, in which history has now proven in the hearing of the Manukau Claim that the war was not caused by Ngati Maniapoto or Waikato Tribes, but by ulterior motives by members of the provisional government and the legislative chambers of the time.

The crown destroying Ngati Rora indigenous forestry by allowing it's settlers policy to develop unchecked and without proper supervision to ensure it complies with the rights granted to Ngati Rora Hapu of the Maniapoto Iwi of Tainui Waka under the Treaty of Waitangi.

The crown recent legislation acts, state owned enterprises act, the crown protection policy on crown surplus lands, resource management act, forest amendment act, conservation act, minerals act, successive acts of parliament, including education, health, social services, housing, employment, immigration, armed forces, justice lands, and forest.

The reversal of the 1885 New Zealand Constitution in 1888, which prevents Ngati Rora Hapu of the Ngati Maniapoto Iwi Tainui Waka the right to establish it's own self government of land, the right to tax as it sees fit within their own rohe and tribal boundaries.

Will be waiting to hear from you.

Naku Noa,

P. Turner
